

“Stealthing”: Feminists open Pandora’s box of sexual assault double standards

The Rebel - Friday May 12th, 2017

As the definition of sex assault becomes broader and shallower, men become ever more vulnerable to the heavy hand of a legal system that is biased toward women.

“Stealthing” is an immoral behaviour practiced by both men and women, but only punishes men.

Watch as I explain why what has come to be accepted in Canadian law as a form of “reproductive coercion” is so problematic.

Stealthing is a confusing and vaguely defined concept that opens up a Pandora’s box of possibilities where even pillow talk can be considered a form of sexual assault.
